RE: Jessica Haight

To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Jessica Haight for close to 4 years. I first met her through her involvement with Odyssey Youth Center in Spokane, Washington as a youth member. She later joined Odyssey Youth Center in a volunteer position which she is still currently serving. We are very fortunate to have her on our team.

My first impressions of Jessica were that here is a young person who is bright, hard working, passionate and articulate. These initial perceptions have proven very accurate over the time I have known her.

Working with the young people at Odyssey seems to come very natural to Jessica. I was told several times by our other volunteers how great she is with our youth. She is understanding, yet knows the boundaries very well.

I know Jessica cares deeply about ensuring that everyone has a fair shot at achieving their full potential. She cares about Odyssey's youth and their futures. She sets a great example and is a very respectable adult mentor. She is detail oriented and often spends significant time researching issues so that she is better prepared and informed.

I have only good things to say about Jessica and would recommend her for anything she chooses to tackle. She is a very positive person and is very enjoyable to have around.

Sincerely,
